Start simple. Customize as your needs change.

The Centric™ is a smart, flexible solution designed to adapt and change with your team's needs.

For individuals requiring additional support or greater adjustability, the Centric can be upgraded to a high-performance task chair by replacing one or more components in the field.

Backed by over 35 years of ergonomic expertise, the Centric is built on The Science of Sitting®.

The Centric was designed in collaboration with award-winning industrial designer Miles Keller.
