

Portable Office Dividers

ergoCentric®
The science of sitting®

Improve workspace privacy and reduce noise ergoCentric's Portable Office Dividers are designed to improve workplace privacy and sound control in open concept office environments. Lockable, durable casters allow the dividers to be easily moved and reconfigured, and then locked in place when properly positioned. Dividers can be used to separate workstations or create private quiet zones for meetings or conference calls, greatly improving space utilization while increasing privacy. Dividers are made with a sound absorbing material that reduce the noise level in a space. Available in 6 colours, ergoCentric's Portable Office Dividers features minimalist design while allowing for ultimate flexibility in space
